Conway Goes in Debt for an Airport

State newspapers report that the voters of Conway approved 428 to 205 Tuesday the most ambitious airport project considered by any of the smaller cities of Arkansas thus far. What the people of Conway were voting on was $35,000 of municipal money, and this is expected to launch an airport which will cost, complete, $200,000.

Bond Refunding Bills Outlined by Prof. Leflar

Act No. 4 Conceded Beaten; Still Debate Amendment 31

This is the third of a series of articles on the Acts and Amendments which will appear on the General Election ballot.

By ROBERT A. LEFLAR
Professor of Law, University of Arkansas

There has been much dispute concerning the refunding of the Arkansas highway indebtedness, and there are many doubts as to many matters connected with it. One thing, however, is certain. That is, that some refunding program must be put into effect in Arkansas within the next few years. There are two reasons for this.

The first reason is that interest rates now paid by the state, running up to five per cent, are too high. Other states, with financial situations similar to that of Arkansas, are able to borrow money at substantially lower interest rates. Arkansas can also, if the bonds are made absolutely safe. Such safety is the one thing that will attract cautious investors to low interest-bearing bonds.

The second reason is that Arkansas cannot meet highway bond maturities at their present schedules. A large block of bonds comes due in 1943-44, so that about $12,000,000 will have to be paid that year in principal and interest, and about $45,000,000 will have to be paid in 1949. We cannot pay that much at those times. If we do not refund, we will again default. Our credit will be ruined, and we will again be in a position where the bondholders can dictate harsh terms to the state, as they did when the bonds were last refunded.

Must Improve Security
To borrow money at lower interest rates, Arkansas must make its bonds safer. This should not cost the state a penny, assuming that the state expects to pay the bonds in any event. The one thing which above all else will make the bonds safer is to put a guaranty of their payment into the Constitution, so that possible repudiation-minded legislators of the future cannot destroy the state's obligation on them.

The Carl Bailey Refunding Law (Referred Act No. 4), enacted at the Special Session in 1939, authorized the Governor to appoint a Board to aid him in selling new highway bonds and with the proceeds thereof to call in and pay off the outstanding bonds. Detailed provisions for the refunding machinery were included in the act, and detailed provisions were included in the act for the uses to which all Arkansas highway revenues were to be put until the new bonds were paid off.

This Referred Act No. 4 was an issue in the recent gubernatorial campaign, with Carl Bailey favoring it and Homer Adkins opposing it. One of the principal objections raised to it was that it set no top limit on interest rates on the new bonds, leaving the fixing of these rather wholly to the discretion and the bargaining power of the Governor and his appointed Board. This gave no absolute assurance that the interest rates would be reduced.

A second principal objection to No. 4 was its provision for immediate payment, at par value, of the so-called "B bonds," which were really not bonds at all, but only certificates of indebtedness, bearing no interest, and not due until 1949. Since they bore no interest, and were not payable for ten years, they were not purchasable on the market at a very great discount until shortly before this refunding bill was passed, yet would have been paid off at full face value immediately.

Provision for this immediate payment of the "B bonds" was explained on the ground that the bondholders' contract was a unit for all bonds outstanding, so that the holder of any bond could object to any change in the entire set-up unless his bond was called and paid. That was true, but it seems that a fund

Italy Thinks Burma Road to Involve U. S. A.

Forecasts British-Jap War, Drawing U. S. Into It Later

ROME — (AP) — The possibility that Britain's reopening of the Burma supply road to China Thursday provided a spark to touch off the American powder-keg and bring the United States into the war, was advanced Wednesday by Mario Appelius, military commentator of Premier Mussolini's newspaper.

Appelius characterized the reopening of the road Thursday as Winston Churchill's challenge to Japan, which is almost sure to bring troops of the two powers into conflict.

Japs Are Cautious
HANOI, French Indo-China — (AP) — Major General Sumita, chief of Japanese military mission in Indo-China, declared Wednesday that "Japan is resolutely determined to prevent war materials supplied by the United States or any third power from reaching Chiang Kai-Shek's armies."

The Japanese leader declared that the air force would make an "utmost effort to strike a fatal blow" to China's supply lines from air bases newly acquired in northern Indo-China, but added, "we don't believe any of our blows will fall until war supplies for China have passed through British Burma and have actually entered Chinese territory."

Belittle Nazi-Soviet Break
BERLIN — (AP) — Authorized German sources insisted flatly and unequivocally Wednesday that Soviet Russia was informed of Germany's intention of sending troops into Rumania.

The assertion was made in answer to questions put by foreign correspondents concerning a statement by Tass, official Russian news agency, saying that Moscow had not been informed in advance of Germany's action.

The Hempstead and Nevada Projects Training Class was held on Tuesday at the City Hall from 10:00 a. m. until 3:30 p. m. Librarians and persons interested in the work being done by the library cooperated in rendering a very interesting and educational program.

The morning session was opened by Miss Elsie Weisenberger, Hempstead County Librarian, and the first person introduced on the program was Rev. John Keith Gregory, Pastor of the First Christian church, who discussed acquiring wisdom through the facilities of the library. Mrs. Joe Jackson, Washington Branch Librarian, Mrs. Bliven Goff, Fulton Branch Librarian, Mr. Lester Boyce, Spring Hill Branch Librarian, and Mrs. Lois F. Russell of the Hope library gave a report of the month's progress in each library. The remainder of the morning session was devoted to a roundtable discussion of the Dewey Decimal system as used in the library.

The afternoon session was opened by Senator James Pilkinton who gave a short but enlightening talk on what the Arkansas Legislature has done for the County Library.

A most interesting book review of Osa Johnson's "I Married Adventure" was given by Mrs. R. L. Broach. Mrs. Johnnie McCabe discussed the different types of librarians and Miss Evelyn Simpson gave a description of the Library of Congress. Mr. Boyce gave an account of the development of the rural library service and its place in the rural life, and Mrs. Joe Jackson discussed the reference librarian.

The class adjourned at 3:30 and will meet again on the third Tuesday in November.

Bright Sayings of the Adults

MARION, Ky. — (AP) — While on a fishing trip, W. D. Cannon landed a seven-pound bass. Excitedly, he wired his wife:

"Just landed seven-pounder . . . and real beauty."

Things also were happening at home and Mrs. Cannon wired back:

"Just arrived, nine-pounder. Not a beauty, looks like you. Come home."

1,054 Men Are Registered in Hope at 1:30

Registrars Have Been Busy Since Opening Time at 7 o'Clock

A check of the five registration places in the different wards of Hope at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon disclosed that 1,054 men between the ages of 21-36 had signed up for selective military service here.

Registrars of each ward reported that men were waiting to be registered at opening time at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning and that line had been waiting, in most places, ever since. Each ward has from 6 to 15 registrars and all were busy.

Early Wednesday morning American Legion members drove through the residential section of the city blowing bugle taps at intervals. At 10 o'clock the Hope High School Band paraded through the downtown streets playing marches.

All school teachers of the city along with American Legion members, city and county officials, County Central Committee members and citizens are serving as registrars.

The county total up to noon could not be determined. Immediately after nine o'clock, closing time, names of men who have registered in the county will be forwarded to Little Rock to the governor's office.

4 Baylor Boys 21 Wednesday Payton Kolb of Hope One of Group Born October 16

WACO, Tex. — Wednesday has a special significance to at least four Baylor University students and it will probably mean more than just a birthday cake.

By virtue of the fact that they were all born on Oct. 16, 1919, William Payton Kolb of Hope, Ark., Harold Holze of Otto, Texas, Harold Johnson and W. L. Grant of Waco will have to register for the draft on national R-day, when 16,000,000 men between the ages of 21 and 35 will be listed.

A point of law may be raised in regard to the drafting of some of these if the student was born after 9 o'clock at night.

Conway Votes Airport Bonds

$35,000 Expected to Start $200,000 Project

CONWAY — In a special election Tuesday Conway voters approved a $35,000 bond issue for expansion of the municipal airport. The vote was 428 to 205. The bond issue was favored in all except the Fourth ward, where the vote was 34 against and 28 for.

Mayor Ralph Hamberg said plans would go forward immediately for a $200,000 airport project and that following its completion, the city will seek an advanced government flying school. Fifty young fliers now are being trained here.

Band Auxiliary Raises $722

Call for All Outstanding Pledges to Band

Against an annual budget of $1,080 the Hope High School Band Auxiliary has raised a total Tuesday night of $722.50, and is now calling for the turning in of all outstanding pledges.

The budget includes: $150 for uniforms; $125 for instruments; $150 for music; $300 expenses for the state contest trip; $150 expenses for all other trips; $35 for instrument insurance; $100 for band supplies and equipment; and $20 for band letters.

This budget was adopted by the auxiliary at a meeting in Capital hotel Tuesday.

Of the total of $722.50 already raised, $300 represents a $25-per-month donation by the Hope city council, and $422.50 in yearly pledges by business men and houses.

Pledges still outstanding may be delivered to any of the following Band Auxiliary committees:

Nazis to Step Up Air Bombing

Assert Attack on England Will Be Tripled

BERLIN — (AP) — Attacks on London will be tripled before the German air offensive reaches its peak, and tons of bombs will be the British capital's daily fare from now on, informed Nazi sources predicted Wednesday.

Tuesday night's assault on London, during which 1,000 tons of bombs were reported dropped on the city, was only a "zephyr" compared with what is in store, the sources said. "We'll reach typhoon stage yet," they asserted, "we're only about one-third of the way there now."

Bad Night for London

LONDON — (AP) — Rescue squads dug Wednesday for dead, wounded, dying and uninjured persons entombed in one of the worst over-night bombardments in the 40 days of continuous air siege on London while Nazi planes roved the coasts of England, Scotland and Wales.

The Air and Home Security ministries, calling the night attack "wide-spread and quite wanton," said the number killed was greater than in other recent raids, but "considerably" less than early September raids when the German air force first laid siege to London, and the damage likewise is "not so great."

Despite wide-spread reports of the presence of Nazi raiders by daylight, the Air and Home ministries said, "there has been hardly any enemy activity over the country Wednesday."

In London, rescue workers, digging in a frenzy at tons of masonry which turned several air raid shelters into tombs, and siphoned liquid food to those buried alive to sustain them until they could be reached.

Troop Train Bombed

BERLIN — (AP) — Informed German sources said at least 300 persons were killed or injured when a German dive bomber attacked an English transport train Wednesday.

Gibraltar Bombed
ALGECIRAS, Spain — (AP) — High flying planes raided Gibraltar at mid-day Wednesday in the heaviest attack since French airmen bombed the British rock September 24-25.

Anti-aircraft guns of British strongholds went "all out" against the raiders.

Tax Range Is From 40 Mills Up to 48

LITTLE ROCK — (AP) — The Corporation Commission reported Wednesday that the total levy of the 1939 ad valorem property taxes for all purposes within the cities of various counties ranged from 40 mills in ten counties to 48 in Newton county, with the exception of several of the "large" cities.

Total levies for other counties included: Hempstead, 41.50.

City Council Meets Tuesday

Regular Routine Business Discussed at Meeting

At the second October meeting of the Hope city council at city hall Tuesday night, general business was discussed by aldermen McMath, Spears, Garner, Williams, Brown, Cassidy and Young with Mayor W. S. Atkins presiding.

A petition was brought before the council asking that the yearly license be lowered. The proposed reduction was based on the fact that several small markets had to pay the same fee as larger markets which do a much greater volume of business. The council decided to let the matter stand but said that license would have to be paid annually thus protecting regular establishments business houses. The police chief was also relieved of the duty of collecting license fees of any kind. Anyone having to pay five cents will have to do so without being asked nor payment is to be made to the city clerk.

Routine Business
It was reported to the council that the WPA had withdrawn aid from the ridies rest room project. The council then instructed the Chamber of Commerce to get in touch with the NYA and get a definite answer as to whether they will furnish a matron or not and report back to the council.

Dr. Don Smith, city health physician, gave a report on a recent board of health meet and reported several diseases and sewer problems over the city.

A motion was made and passed that all bills being in order be paid. A motion was made and passed to put a traffic officer on the corner of Washington and Division for one week the object being to acquaint citizens with the new stop light that has been recently installed there. The police committee was instructed to fix bus stops in the city.

The street commission was instructed to get prices of several waste bins to be installed at various places uptown.

O. Thomas was instructed to look after the drainage defects throughout the city.

A plan was presented by E. F. McFaddin whereby the ordinances of the city can be digested and bound into book-form through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce with the cost not to exceed $75. This plan was approved.

The project of repainting the water and light plant stack was referred to the water and light committee.

The project of drilling a new well for the Water and Light Plant was referred to the Water and Light committee with power to act. Based on the history of other wells the casing of one of the deep wells is due to collapse.

A motion was made and passed to allow the license fee of a carnival, which will be here soon, to go to the police department.

16½ Million Total Will Be Reached Early

Rate Indicates This Figure to Be Reached Before 9 p. m.

By the Associated Press
At the estimated rate of 1,250,000 an hour America's young men signed up Wednesday for possible service in the nation's first peace-time draft army.

Reports going into Washington from state capitals, which in turn had gathered them from every city, town and rural district, prompted selective service headquarters to announce that the whole vast registration machinery is "slipping along smoothly."

In fact, officials said, if registrations continued all day at the present estimate of 1,250,000 hourly, the expected national total of 16,400,000 registrants will be reached before the closing hour at 9 o'clock Wednesday night.

Packed House at Revival

Baptist Meet to Continue Balance of Week

A packed auditorium greeted Dr. C. C. Warren at the Tuesday evening Revival Service at First Baptist church. Unusual interest is attending these services. Dr. Warren will preach in both morning and evening services Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. The Rev. William R. Hamilton will preach at the Sunday services of the Revival. There have already been a large number of professions of Faith in Christ, and additions to the church are expected, and even more are expected during the remaining days of the Revival. Dr. Warren will preach Wednesday evening at 7:30 on "The Religion For Everybody."

On Tuesday evening Dr. Warren preached on the subject "Disregarding The Warnings of God." He said in part: "Although we have been warned again and again by the greatest minds of our day that our type of religion will not last, we go on content with a religion that allows us to attend church once a month, talk about our neighbors, pay five cents to the church, $1.00 for the movie, and $5.00 for a permanent wave; and we have a good time. Then, when somebody like Hitler comes along and calls us soft, we have to bear the sting because it is true—for we do the conventional thing—that which is customary."

"There are so many signals in life, but we disregard those that are most important to us. Instead of watching the signal we see how far down the train the train is, in order to know whether or not we can beat it, but if it is a signal for danger, or to stop work, we hear it or see it. "God has so many signals in his word which both for the saved and the unsaved and all too often we disregard them and we find ourselves being caught in the same old traps of sin over and over. Some of God's signals are: 'Be not conformed to this world but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind.' 'Woe unto them that are at ease in Zion.' 'He that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin.' 'All have sinned and come short of the glory of God.' 'Except ye repent, Ye shall all likewise perish.'"

"There are so many other warnings too and yet so many people disregard them, and put off accepting Christ. Why? So many foolish little excuses are given—One says, 'We just don't see things alike.' Another says, 'Oh, I'm pretty good' and he forgets that the Lord said, 'For by grace are ye saved through faith and that not of yourselves'; another says, 'There are too many hypocrites in the church' and yet he takes the chance of being polluted by the hypocrite out of the church where nine-tenths of them are. Another says, 'I'm going to wait until I feel something,' and when asked what kind of feeling he wants he doesn't know and therefore he wouldn't know if he did have the feeling. Then there was the 92 year old man who wanted time to think it over. Another says 'I'm afraid I cannot hold out,' when he isn't the one who has to hold out, but Christ is the one who can hold him."

"It is not because of ignorance that most people in America do not accept Christ—it is because they are too stubborn to heed God's signals, and though they get by with it for awhile, they will not always do so. 'For whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.'"

Mrs. R. L. Broach Reviews "I Married Adventure"

At the meeting of the Hempstead county Library Association, Mrs. R. L. Broach reviewed the book, "I Married Adventure" by Osa Johnson in a most charming and interesting manner.

The book is a story of the lives of Martin and Osa Johnson, who for 20 years faced life and adventure in dangerous jungles in all corners of the world. At the age of sixteen, Martin Johnson left independence, Kansas and started roaming. A globe trotter while still in his teens, at twenty he went off with Jack London on the "Snark." When he returned to Kansas, he met Osa Leighty, and soon they were married. Their first joint expedition was to islands near Borneo in the South Seas, where cannibals still existed, and here they narrowly escaped their lives.

Between their first and last trips they circled the globe six times, experiencing their happiest years in Africa. One year they explored the entire continent of Africa by airplane; another they made the first sound pictures ever attempted of the gorillas in the Belgian Congo and the Pigmies of the Ituri Forest. Martin Johnson films are familiar to every man, woman, and child in America.

The book, richly illustrated with his pictures, is a lasting memorial to the world's greatest photographic explorer. Lowell Thomas says it is "A fascinating and thrilling story of the round-the-world experiences of one of the most unusual women of our time."

Arkansas to Play Texas

Razorbacks to Meet Longhorns at Little Rock

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — A mass exodus of University of Arkansas students is in prospect for Saturday when the Razorbacks meet the University of Texas Longhorns in Little Rock.

The football team will leave Friday and spend the night in Conway, moving into the capital city Saturday morning. The famed Razorback marching band and hundreds of students will be on a special train leaving here early Saturday morning. The band and pep squad will take part in the parade in Little Rock at noon.

Many fans are planning to go to Fort Smith Friday night to see the Arkansas freshmen play the University of Tulsa frosh at the Fort Smith high school stadium and then go from there to Little Rock for the varsity game.

Arkansas-Texas games at Little Rock in the past have been of the sensational kind. Two years ago the underdog Razorbacks buried the Longhorns under a 42-to-6 score in a game played on Kavanaugh Field, Little Rock. This is the largest tally ever made by Arkansas in Southwest Conference competition.

Two years before that, Arkansas played Texas at Little Rock in the final game of the season. It was a rainy December day in 1936 when the Razorbacks clicked with a Sloan-Benton touchdown pass that beat the Longhorns 6 to 0 and gave Arkansas its only conference championship.

So the student body and alumni from all over the state will gather in the Arkansas capital Saturday to see the renewal of the rivalry and possibly the crowning of a new hero. It may be Jack Crain of Texas or it may be one of the up-and-coming sophomores of the Arkansas squad. And the Arkansas student body thinks it's worth going 200 miles to see.

Ark. Freshmen to Play Tulsa

Three Hope Boys Listed in Starting Lineup

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — The University of Arkansas freshman team, disappointed by the 7-to-7 tie game they played with the Miami, Okla., Junior College a week ago, will turn on the power against their perennial rivals, the University of Tulsa freshmen, at Fort Smith Friday night. The game, sponsored by the Fort Smith Junior Chamber of Commerce, promises to attract a large crowd from western Arkansas and eastern Oklahoma.

The lineup of the Arkansas frosh is dotted with 1939 stars from the high schools in this part of the state. Fort Smith football fans will be watching the performance of a trio of former Fort Smith Grizzlies—David Paul Jones, Julian Franklin and Joe Tibbetts. Jones, the freshmen's only triple-threat, starred in the Miami game.

Clarksville fans will be pulling for Frank Delmonico, the Panther's great all-state back of last year. David Scarborough is another Clarksville boy who will see action with the frosh.

From Hope a delegation will go to Fort Smith to cheer for Norman Green and Joe Eason, freshman ends, and Roy Taylor, one of the great backs that Hope high school has turned out.

The Arkansas frosh weight average went down with the withdrawal from school of two tackles who had been counted on for the starting lineup. They are George Lalman, 250, and Wes Calhoun, 240.

Last year's game between the Arkansas and Tulsa first-year teams resulted in a 27 to 13 victory for the baby Razorbacks.
